

You know the role quality leadership plays in the bottom line of a business. And because you have a stake in the quality of Iowa's schools, you also understand how important it is to have great school administrators leading your community's schools. Research is clear about the positive impact quality school administrators have on student achievement.

You're invited to join School Administrators of Iowa as a corporate partner in support of school leaders' professional growth. Today's schools need great leaders. Leaders who know how to develop a vision for their school's future. Leaders who know how to coach teachers to excellence. Leaders who work with parents, business and labor leaders, the faith community and retired citizens to create the kinds of schools our kids deserve. Leaders who know how to analyze student data and implement strategies to close the achievement gap that can exist between affluent and poor kids, or English language learners.

These changing student needs require additional skill sets for school administrators. Professional leadership development takes financial resources which have been in short supply in most Iowa school districts. In fact, two-thirds of all districts have declining enrollment in their schools and will receive no new money again next year. Many members count on SAI, their professional association, to provide them with affordable training opportunities. That's where we need your assistance.

Please help defray the costs for superintendents and principals to participate in leadership development sessions through your sponsorship of one or more initiatives. The benefits to you are outlined inside.
